PINKIE WALDEN TO BE SEEN IN ACTION HERE

Knoxville to Play In Middlesboro On Local Field Friday.

BOBCATS ON EDGE

Annual Clash to Be of Unusual Interest This Year as Knoxville Is Reported to Be Strong Team.

Pinkie Walden is not only a foot ball player of rare ability but a scholar of high ranking and one who the Central high school is proud to have enrolled.

The diminutive sorrel top who has probably made history is scoring touchdowns and yardage for the Red and Black is a B plus student in his classes. Right now Pinkie is running a close race with Lowell Thomas, another stellar football performer of Central, for the scholarship prize to be awarded the athlete making the best grade in his classes.

Pinkie, like all football players of high point calibre, believes in keeping his mind active as well as his rabit-like legs in action.

As a player the diminutive dart is a wonder and sensation of the sport. He is only seventeen years old and this is his second year of football. He is a sophomore at County and has two more years to play with his school.

Pinkie came to County last year from a junior high school. He had never played football except just in a rough and tumble way as boys will do in afternoon after school hours. All he knew about the game was to run with the ball. He knew nothing of the fundamentals of the sport, but he liked it and when he went to Central he was one of the many answering Coach Vic Campbell's call for football players.

A rough estimate of yards gained by the little flash totals eight hundred. This estimate has been compiled by Coach Harbison from the games played in this season. He has scored sixteen touchdowns in the six battles engaged in.

The eight hundred yard estimate is less than what Pinkie has really scored, it is believed for as no accurate account has been kept it is impossible to ascertain the correct yardage. The estimate is taken just from the long gains he has made, nothing under ten yards being added. With his short gains through the line his total would no doubt reach the thousand mark.

Pinkie has been declared by many to be one of the best prep school players in the south. His long runs have won him fame throughout Tennessee and in many sections of Dixie.

He is one of the best prospects for college football that has been developed in Knoxville in many years.

Three of the players on the Middlesboro High school football team are suffering from injuries. It is very doubtful if these boys can get into the game with Knoxville Friday. This bodes ill for Middlesboro's chances against such strong opposition but Coach Kilpatrick and his assistants are working overtime trying out new combinations. It will be a plucky aggregation which represents the home team on Friday and in spite of misfortunes suffered they will present a strong and bold front.

Picture Union Formed By Film Extras

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—(AP).—The character of the clothes required for their work forms the basis for the pay demanded by the supernumeraries in the Germans films, who have recently formed a union. The highest rate of pay is fixed for those who appear in street and mob scenes, in which the most ordinary clothing is required.

The highest rate provided by the union scale is for the ballroom and cabaret scenes in which the women and girls are obliged to appear in fancy costumes and the men in formal evening dress. The supernumeraries are obliged to furnish their own apparel.

Judges Decision Unseats Five Republican Aldermen

IS NOT FRAUD

Non-Emblem Ballot Is Held Responsible; Ousting Republicans Does Not Insure Office to Democrats.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 13. (AP)—Five republican alderman, one councilman were unseated to-day by the decision of Judges Allen and Edwards in the chancery division on appeals of democratic candidates, asking they be declared elected as the result of the 1923 November election.

No evidence of republican fraud or conspiricy as charged was found but chancelors discovered irregularities in voting. A non emblem ballot is held responsible. The decision, while ousting the six aldermen does not declare the democrats elected. The democratic members plan to take their appeals to the Court of Appeals.

Bounty Hunters Win Money Dishonestly

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 13.—The coyote, the fox and the wolf long have stood as synonyms for wile, guile and resourcefulness, but many hunters have put these animals to shame, judging from accounts related by A. K. Fisher, of the federal biological survey, who recently was here on an inspection trip.

Thousands of dollars have been collected illegally as bounties by dishonest hunters, Mr. Fisher declared. He said the most famous bounty fraud was perpetrated in Wisconsin, where $250,000 was paid on the heads of wolves which had been shipped in from Nevada. He added that about $180,000 was paid in a similar scheme in Pennsylvania before the deception was discovered.

"Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, where wolves were scarce, offered large bounties to get rid of these predatory animals," Mr. Fisher explained. "So several hunters went to Nevada, where wolves were plentiful and the bounty low, and shipped their bags to Wisconsin and Pennsylvania."

Motor Cycle Exhibition Thrills Holiday Crowd

FREAK RIDING

Colson Brothers, "Bill and "Jack" Prepare Program of Feats Such as Were Never Before Witnessed Here.

The motorcycle circus which was given on Armistice Day was a huge success. Fully three thousand people witnessed the demonstration.

The affair was promoted by "Billy" Colson of the Colson motorcycle garage and his brother "Jack" Colson. The feature attraction of the circus was the performance of Jack Colson. He was the stunt rider dressed in white. Indian motorcycles were used in which a number of daring stunts were performed.

One of the hair-raising acts was the trick of standing erect in the saddle and on the frame. The fearless riders picked up a handekrchief from a motorcycle while riding without the use of handle bars.

Due to the slight delay in the preparations, in starting the circus, Mr. Colson left out a feature of the program in order that the football game might be well attended by the crowd.

Having devoted a great deal of time and energy to the details of the show it was with great disappointment that Mr. Colson was unable to give his trump card.

Americans Careless About Their Food

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 13. (AP)—Unless the American people eat more whole milk and natural sweets, the next two or three generations will be a nation of weaklings, so far as bone and teeth are concerned," Dr. C. B. Fowlkes of Birmingham, Ala., asserted in an address today at the American Dental Association convention.

"In the matter of diet, the dental profession has an opportunity for doing a real service in outlining a diet that furnishes the necessary lime salts to build tooth and bone structure during the pre-natal and pre-school period, as well as during childhood to the eighteenth year," Dr. C. B. Fowlkes said.

"One has only to look about him to see that the American people are not eating the right kind of breads, rice and sweets to say nothing of properly proportioned vegetable diet," the speaker declared. He stated that it is possible for any individual to reduce decay in his own mouth 75 per cent by proper home prophylaxis, and that proper mouth hygiene would reduce the percentage of contagious diseases in children, such as mumps, measles, scarlet fever, etc.

KENTUCKY RANKS HIGH IN MINING

State Has Risen From the Bottom In the Middle 80's to the Fourth Place at Present.

(The Associated Press)

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 13.—Kentucky has been a "wonderful advance in coal production during the last three decades," Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson, state geologist, said today.

"The state has risen from the bottom of the list in the middle 80s to fourth place at present," he said. "Prior to 1893 practically all the coal mining was done by hand and with the pick. About this time operators began to gradually introduce the use of machinery.

"This movement has grown rapidly, especially during the last three decades. In 1893, 20 percent of Kentucky coal was machine mined; in 1903, 49 percent was machine mined, and in 1913, about 70 percent. In 1910 this had increased to 84.4 percent and is about 90 percent at present."

He gave the total coal production in 1923 in the state at 43,149,962 tons, valued at $113,542,000,000 against 20,382,763 tons valued at $20,852,463,000 in 1914.

"The remarkable growth Kentucky has made in coal production during the last decade has been due to the discovery and development of new, thick, marketable coals in the eastern counties," he added.

"Thus Letcher County enters the list of counties as producing commercial coal in 1912, and in 1916 heads the list, outrivaling her sister county, Pike, the then leader, which began producing commercial coal in 1904. Thrilled by the advance of Letcher, Pike county returns to the first place in 1917, and has led the state down to the present.

"Harlan county has been a similar development. Kentucky's output of coke was trebled the second year Harlan county produced commercial coal. The third year after Harlan county entered the list, the coke production was increased almost tenfold. The western field has increased its production greatly by the consolidation of operations and the comparatively recent introduction of modern methods of stripping shallow coals with the steam shovel.

"The war demand stimulated coal production greatly in Kentucky. A reversion to normal condition bids fair to maintain the figure, and the end is not yet in sight. The number of tons of coal produced per death in this state has been unusually high when compared with that of other coal producing states. This, while lamentable, can be corrected by precpe cure and right disposition."

Bootleggers War in Forest City: Two Shot to Death

Cleveland Bootlegger and Philadelphia Brother-In-Law Shot In Garage.

PARDNER IS HELD

CLEVLAND, O. Nov 13. (AP)—A bootleggers war culminating in ambush, police said, brought death to Louis Rosen, 29, of this city and his brother-in-law Adolph Adelson, 28, Philadelphia, a college graduate.

Both men were murdered in the doorway of Rosen's garage in the rear of his home in a fashionable residence district.

Adelson and his wife arrived in Cleveland two days ago to visit the Rosen's and attend a family wedding. It is said by the police that Rosen has been connected with a bootlegging ring.

If scouring the city for the murderers, the police arrested the former proprietor of a confectionery, whom it is alleged was a former partner of Rosen in liquor activities. Meanwhile the investigators are seeking for three men in a muddy touring car shortly before the shots were heard.

Course Planned For Physically Unfit

(The Associated Press)

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 13.—The University of California's system of physical education has been expanded to include students who have physical defects, but are not necessarily required to forego all exertion conducive to building up their bodies.

As Prof. Frank L. Kleeberger, chairman of the department of physical education, explained it: "Many students who are incapacitated in one way or another apply for permission to be excused from work in this department because they think that it is impossible for them to pursue such a course. Yet they are anxious to engage in something that would border along athletic lines. After we have secured permission from attending physicians, we have in many instances been able to place such students in special classes, with results very greatifying."

University gymnastic teams in recent terms have included three one-legged men. One students with a withered arm has become adept at bag punching.

"Physical eduction does not necessarily mean physical exercise," said Prof. Kleeberegr. "Many times we recommend abstinence from physical exercise and advise certain regular living habits which tend to build up the nervous system. Diet also plays an important part."

URGED TO SAVE NATURAL GAS

State Geologist Says It Is A Public Duty To Conserve The Gas Supply.

(The Associated Press.)

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 13.—Conservation of natural gas is a public duty, Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson, state geologist, said today. With the coming of colder weather natural gas assumes a leading public attention, he remarked.

"Indeed the first day of natural resource diminution and hunger is at hand," he said. "The situation during the last few years has become so acute that many industries using natural gas have been forced to abandon it.

"The natural gas fields of Kentucky are well acquainted with the reckless operator. In this state hundred of excellent gas wells have been drilled in eastern, western and southern Kentucky, and have been allowed to return unused their priceless treasure to the atmosphere.

"Notable examples of this practice, which it is true in recent years has been somewhat corrected occur in the Floyd, Johnson, Barren, Green, Taylor, and Grayson county gas fields. Some eastern Kentucky wells have been allowed in the recent past to blow open for years, and the guilty parties who have perpetrated an irreparable wrong not only against the field, but against the consuming public, have gone unreprimanded.

"The public has been slow in general to realize that natural gas exists, like all other material things in a perfectly definite though largely an unknown quantity. All natural gas pools contain, could we but figure it, a certain number of cubic feet of gas, and no more.

"When this amount of gas is used up or otherwise dissipated, it can never be replenished. It is a mistaken conception, but a common one, that natural gas fields will 'come back' if they are not drawn upon for a while. Nothing could be more fallacious.

"Natural gas, fields, coal fields, oil fields, and all mineral resources to which we may turn our hand in a time of need, exist in a certain amount which can never be increased.

"Like the thrifty housewife, we may use them carefully, and extend their period of productivity over a relatively long time; or we may squander them recklessly, priceless as they are, much like the sailor in port."

Sign Contract For Powerful Naval Flying Boat

State Historians Locate First Store

FRANKFORT, Nov. 13. (AP)—While the last store in Kentucky is being completed somewhere in the state today, to be supplanted by another one tomorrow, and another one the day after officials of the state historical society are agreed upon the first store.

It was at Boonesborough, they said. Henderson and Company were the proprietors. Lead, powder, a few muskets and rifles, calico, cotton goods, some yarns and a few groceries were offered for sale.

Trading or swapping generally took the place of buying for cash.

Corn, pumpkins, muskmelons, turnips, Irish potatoes, and watermelons, were the first crops raised in the state, they say.

There were only 300 white inhabitants in Kentucky in May, 1775, all living within 50 miles of Boonesborough, now Booneshoro, Madison county.

WOMEN CARE FOR SICK ANIMALS

Sisters Are Making Sacrificial Fight for Friendless and Suffering Animals.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 13.—Out in the hills of Kansas, across the Missouri River from here and close by that stream, two lone women, Sarah H. and H. H. Jacobs, sisters are making a sacrificial fight for friendless and suffering animals that is winning them world fame.

These women, by stint and industry, acquired a little home in the outlaying district that is given over unselfishly and almost completely to housing discarded dogs, cats, birds and horses, and to spreading the gospel of humane endeavor.

In order to carry on their chosen work, H. H. Jacobs works as a bookkeeper, going a dozen miles daily to her desk, while her sister, whitehaired and frail, is housekeeper. In the 20 years since they began the enterprise, and it has been carried on solely through their own means and without monetary recompense, the Jacobs sisters have cared for hundreds of animals, patiently nursing the sick back to strength and providing for the strays and disowned till good homes were found.

STATE TAKES OVER HALF OF DIXIE "A" COSTS

People of Iceland Remarkably Healthy

HOFN HORNAFJORD, Iceland, Nov. 13. (AP)—Village doctors in the United States are often called upon to make trips that entail many hours, on even days, to the house of their patients, but in Iceland, the district physicians as a matter of routine, often covers hundreds of miles by horseback in the ordinary course of his duties.

The government physician of the Hornafjord district, stretching along the southern coastline, has one of the most difficult territories to cover in the kingdom. His district embraces more than 100 square miles, most of it in remote valleys or along the narrow strip of coast. It is surrounded by huge mountains, many of them active volcanoes; scores of glaciers and great snowfields, and in the course of each inspection he must ford more than 100 rivers, few of which are bridged at any time of the year. In the spring these rivers, fed by the big glaciers that send down nearly every valley, become swollen torrents, and it is often hours before the doctor can find a safe ford for his pony. The usual inspection trip, made every few weeks, requires at least three days and sometimes a fortnight.

CONSIDER THE LOCAL MERCHANT

Time and again this newspaper has preached the gospel of loyalty to home merchants to its subscribers and many, we believe, have heeded our plea for the consideration of the local business men, but there are still too many people who, when met by the suave arguments of high-powered salesmen, cannot resist the temptation to buy even though they may know, if they stopped to think that they are wronging themselves and their fellow citizens, when they buy from outside concerns.

Perhaps it is not amiss to review a few of these things that the home merchant does, which the itinerant peddler and the mail order house does not do for the community. The home-town merchant is your friend—your neighbor. He pays taxes in our city to keep up our government and our schools. He donates to every worthy cause that comes along. He works to upbuild our civic enterprises. He employs many of our citizens in his business enterprises and he and his employes no doubt in turn spend their money with you. The home town merchant's interests are centered in the community in which he has made and reinvested all he possesses, and naturally he is working continually to upbuild the city in which he lives.

Consider the peddler and the mail order house. Do they ever contribute to the local churches? Do they pay any taxes which help to pay the salaries of your city officials? Do they help to keep up the city's parks and playgrounds?

Be loyal to your home town merchant, folks. He's playing square with you. He is helping to boost your city along and in so-doing he is helping you. When the "bell-ringer" comes to your door, just tell him that you do not need his wares—tell him that your home town merchant is the only one who deserves your patronage and is the only one who is going to get it.—Lawton (Okla.) Constitution.

DIVIDING DEMOCRACY

The political skullduggery that divided the democratic party in the face of the foe in the Democratic National Convention and destroyed its fine prospects for victory from the first, is being begun all over again by those who were chiefly responsible for it thus early in the game.

A strenuous drive is being made to place the blame for Mr. Davis's defeat on Mr. McAdoo and the states that supported McAdoo in the national convention.

The New York World parades the states of California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, New Mexico and Nebraska, whose delegations, in whole or in part, supported McAdoo, and cites their votes to show that Mr. Davis was "slashed" by democrats in these "McAdoo states." The World makes no inclusion of that other noble array of McAdoo states, and states friendly to McAdoo in the convention, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas which adhered loyally to Mr. Davis and gave him their electoral votes. Nor does the World so much as squint at the "slashing" of Davis by democrats in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Illinois, which states supported Governor Al Smith on every ballot as long as his name was before the convention and broke eagerly to John W. Davis's standard as their next best choice when Governor Smith withdrew, while not one of these original Al Smith and anti-McAdoo states gave Mr. Davis an electoral vote, or even a decent democrtaic popular vote in the election. It is peculiarly pointed how The World overlooks its own New York state in prating of democrats "slashing" Mr. Davis in view of the damning record there in the early returns of 1,625,351 for Governor Smith and 956,929 votes for Mr. Davis, showing that 668,425 of those who voted for Smith "slashed" Mr. Davis, a discrepancy which The New York Times attributed to the trading of Democratic votes to the Coolidge Republicans for Smith votes.

The Al Smith states, which could not deliver one democratic electoral vote in the presidential election, led and hied on by The World, waged an implacable war on the Southern and Western states that could and probably would have elected the democratic candidate of the choice—they dragged in the non-political, extraneous and irrelevant religious and racial issue which the Southern and Western delegations wisely fought to keep out as fatal to the party's prospects—they insisted on tagging these Southern and Western states and delegations with the Klan label and crediting them with the Klan prejudice, and they even prevailed on Mr. Davis in his campaign to go beyond the party platform and denounce the Klan to please them—and then these Klan-hating democrats of New York knifed Mr. Davis good and plenty, while the Southern states which they insisted on identifying with the Klan loyally supported Mr. Davis, and gave him their electoral votes without a single exception. And these New York democrats who could only see red at the name of the Klan and could see nothing else of vital interest to the democratic party, with the similarly affected World paper, gave their votes to Mr. Coolidge who discreetly kept his mouth shut and could not be dragooned into saying one word derogatory to the Klan. These folks who frothed at the mouth at the name of the Klan cut Mr. Davis who denounced the Klan for them, nearly one out of two of the votes they gave to Governor Al Smith. They propose to keep up their destructive agitation for the coming four years with what purpose in view unless it be one of two objects, that of making Governor Smith the democratic candidate in 1928, or that of ensuring Republican victory in 1928, as far as thier efforts can effect it we are at a loss to conceive. Governor Smith is being determined on for their candidate for presidency who was only enabled to carry his own state for the governorship by the ruse resorted to by his democratic supporters of trading their votes to the Coolidge republicans for enough Roosevelt votes in return to elect him over the young and callow replica of Teddy, the Great. Governor Smith got by with some 100,000 majority with the aid of the traded votes.

Speaking Of Giants !

What would have happened to him but for these is easily figured.

If The World correctly indicates the line along which the "democrats" of this kidney propose to conduct the campaign in and for 1928, it is well that they have given the South and the West thus early notice.—Knoxville Sentinel.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By E. R Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce.

THAT it is a great convenience and advantage to have well-stocked stores in a city.

THAT they give a city a reputation as a good city in which to trade.

THAT progressive stores make a tremendous force to help to improve the civic advantages and to advance the prosperity of a city.

THAT one of the most interesting parts of any newspaper is the advertisements. They have absorbing, profitable information for every one.

THAT the way to find out values offered by the merchants is to read the ads.

THAT there is no easier way to save money than by reading the ads and buying where the best buys are.

THAT a whole lot of pessimists in business are 'riding for a fall." It takes optimism to succeed. Ambitious stores advertise.

THAT honesty, originality and persistancy in advertising make a paying business.

THAT you always know what you have to pay when you buy advertised goods.

ONE OF THE WAYS to cut down the high cost of living is to buy from the merchants who advertise. They sell the best for less.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The honor and work attached to the job of being president are not all that the voters handed President Coolidge on Nov. 4.

The emoluments and perquisites that go with the office are no mean considerations in themselves.

To one of Coolidge's thrifty tendencies these mean no little in a material way, toward provision for the future

Of course all these come merely as incidentals, but New England common sense forbids that even incidentals be slighted when they may help make things more cozy for a future rainy day.

• • •

CHIEF of the material emoluments Coolidge will receive as president for the next four years is the $75,000 annual salary —payable semi-monthly. There is an additional travel allowance of $25,000 yearly, to be drawn on as needed

Doubtless a substantial part of this will be returned to the treasury each year during Coolidge's regime For the president is not a gadabout

A further direct factor of pay is the executive mansion, as residence, furnished, lighted, heated and staffed at the cost of the nation

The presidential perquisites, however, make up an imposing list.

He has a private office in the capitol, glittering with gold and crystal at which touring visitors gaze in awe

He has a flock of the finest automobiles, a private detective and police force, a private art gallery; a private library, a private yacht when he travels by water and a private railroad train if he goes by land.

PRIVATE greenhouses supply fresh flowers for his desk and dinner table, and half a dozen brass bands are on call when he wants stirring music.

A personal physician looks after the physical welfare of himself and his family and he gets the right of way over all telephone and telegraph wires when he wants to send a message.

He eats on fine linen which has the coat of arms of the United States woven into its texture, from china and glassware bearing the seal of the U S

And at Thanksgiving and Christmas ardent admirers send in the biggest turkeys and the fattest 'possums to burden the presidential table—and digestion!

• • •

WITH the election over, the immediate political puzzle absorbing attention in the capital is:

"What will Bill Butler get out of it?"

For the opinion seems unanimous that the Boston wool baron who managed the Coolidge campaign, both for nomination and election, will be added to the official household.

But in what capacity? As cabinet officer? As emissary at some foreign capital? Or what? Everybody's guessing, but no one knows

Wholly unofficially, he has been proposed for postmaster general or secretary of commerce What either Coolidge or Butler think on the subject has not been disclosed.

Rumors have been current that Postmaster General New would not be included in Coolidge's cabinet, but that is purely speculative, based on the assumption that the post will be needed to place one purely of Coolidge's choice, and that New might like to withdraw to build fences for the 1926 senatorial fight in Indiana.

• • •

WHO will say now that Calvin Coolidge hasn't a real sense of humor? On the very day after his overwhelming election, he issues a proclamation of Thanksgiving!

Court Holds That Will Must Be Exact

FRANKFORT, Ky. Nov 13. (AP)—Where it is not specified in a will that one may sell a devised estate, permission to sell must be sought through the courts, is the substance of an opinion handed down by Judge McCandless of the Court of Appeals in its last handing down of opinions.

Selling and disposing of such property should not be done until an order of court so directs, the court decided.

"The rule is a safe one to follow," Judge McCandles declared. It protects the rights of all parties. It enables a life tenant to enjoy the fruits of the testators bounty, without endangering the estate by the indiscreet acts of one who may prove thoughtless and profligate, and thus preserves to the remainderman what is rightfully his."

He referred to a certain opinion which held that if a court should conclude it would be to the best interests of all parties to sell the whole of the property, the appellate court sees nothing in the will to prevent it, and in that case the proceeds over and above the amount adjudged to be necessary for the use of appellees could be taken charge of by a trustee and invested as the court directs, with authority in the trustee to advance to appellees out of the fund from time to time such sums as their necessities require."

Wheat is the Fuel of Life

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Rising Flours, which are improperly packed in porous sacks or bags, thus allowing absorption of moisture from the air. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

PREHISTORIC REMNANTS FOUND

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—Another prehistoric inhabitant of Southern California yielded the secret of his last resting place recently when R. E. Fisher, exploring the Santa Monica hills near here, stumbled across the remnants of the animal's spinal column.

Fisher found several vertebrae, ranging in diameter from 10 to 18 inches, and some smaller fragments of bones imbedded in limestone that apparently had been fused by volcanic heat. Scientists partially identified the bones as those of a prehistoric whale, or possibly a dinosaur.

Hunter in Alabama who thought a flock of turkeys were wild, shot one and found their owner was wild instead.

Thousands Have Used This RED BLOOD Food

If you are weak, sickly, nervous and run-down, what you need is not merely stimulating medicines and drugs, but something that will put more iron into your blood to make it rich and red, so that it can carry strength and health to every nerve and muscle of your body.

Thousands of men and women have banished every trace of that weak, tired, run-down feeling and increased their strength, energy and endurance often in just two weeks' time by simply taking organic iron—Nuxated Iron.

For Nuxated Iron is a wonderful new combination of organic iron, just like the iron in your own blood. It is entirely different from ordinary iron medicines—does not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach. Furthermore, it is so highly concentrated that one dose is equal to eating one-half quart of spinach or a quart of green vegetables. Take Nuxated Iron for just two weeks and you'll be surprised. Look for much stronger and better you feel. Money back if not delighted. At all good druggists.

LESSON NO. 4

LIGHTING THE LAUNDRY

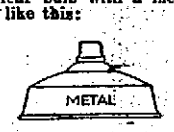
Neither washing clothes nor ironing them is the easiest kind of work. Even when an electric washing machine and an electric ironing machine are used, the weekly wash day is a busy one.

There are little spots of dirt to be washed away—sometimes we have to look twice to be sure that the clothes are quite clean; there are wrinkles and plaits to be ironed carefully. So we need light that will make it easier for us to see what we are doing; lighting that will let us see at a glance whether the clothes are clean and whether the iron has smoothed out all of the wrinkles.

Many homes have a separate room, sometimes in one corner of the basement, where the washing and ironing are done. In other homes the laundry tubs are found in the kitchen and the same room is used both for cooking and for laundry work.

Where the laundry tubs are put in the kitchen, the lighting equipment in Lesson No. 3 will be satisfactory, unless the room is a large one. In this case it may be necessary to add a bracket fixture on the wall behind the tubs, with a 50-watt white bulb or a 75-watt daylight or blue bulb. This bulb should be covered with a deep, open bottom, milk-white glass shade. The daylight or blue glass bulb will make it easier to see scorches.

When the laundry tubs are in a separate room, we need a light close up at the ceiling and over the tubs. It should have a 150-watt daylight or blue bulb or a 100-watt clear bulb with a metal reflector like this:



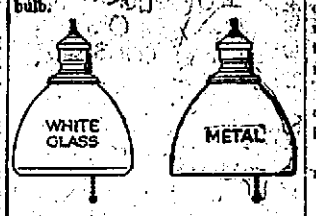
or a dense, milk-white glass shade which is open at the bottom and deep enough to completely cover the bulb, like this:

If the room is a large one, we may need two or three of these lights at the ceiling. In most laundry rooms, one over the tubs will give good lighting. When others are used, put them over the ironing board and over the space that is used for hanging the clothes up to dry indoors.

The convenience outlets for the electric appliances should be in the wall not less than 36 inches above the floor, so that the cord with which we connect them will not be on the floor and get wet.

LIGHTING THE BASEMENT

The basement of our homes usually contains the heating equipment and storage space for fuel. At least one light will be needed in front of the furnace or heater. It should have a 50-watt bulb and a metal or glass shade of this shape, long enough to cover the bulb.



A similar light is needed for the fruit closet, and perhaps for the coal bin.

The stairway to the basement must be lighted by a separate light, unless one of the other lights is very close to it. The light that is used for this purpose should be installed so that it may be turned on and off from the top of the stairs in order that we may see our way down at night.

LIGHTING THE WORKBENCH

Perhaps father or brother has a workbench in the basement where he builds radio sets or takes the smaller parts of the auto to put them in good condition.

This workbench needs two lights over it, one at each end. If only one light is used, the shadows that it will make are very annoying. If two lights are used, each one lights up the shadows made by the other one.

You know when you have a table lamp with only one bulb in it lighted, and all of the other lights in the room are turned out, that if you start to make lines with a ruler, the ruler sometimes makes a shadow just where you are trying to put the line. But if you turn on the other lights in the room, this shadow fades out and you can see nicely.

That is why we need two lights at the ceiling over a workbench, and why one of them should be over the center of one end of the bench and one over the other end of the bench and about six inches in front of it.

KENTUCKY

KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

HAZARD, Ky., Nov. 13.—Robert Kelly, 7 years old, son of J. F. Kelly, a traveling salesman, was killed here at noon Tuesday by an automobile driven by John Smedley, garage employe. The boy was riding to school on the rear end of a wagon when directly in front of the school he ran from behind the wagon in front of the car traveling in the same direction. He was rushed to the city hospital, but died before reaching it.

BELL COUNTY TEACHER INDICTED

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 13.—Five indictments charging malfeasance in office were returned by the Bell county grand jury Tuesday against Camie Wilson, superintendent of schools, and William Hays, assistant superintendent. Bond of $500 in each indictment was made.

The grand jury also returned an indictment against Magistrate Chas. G. Smyth, of Middlesboro, on charges of conversion and misappropriation of State funds. The indictments charged that Magistrate Smyth converted to his own use $1,253 in funds turned over to him by the state.

The five indictments against Camie Wilson and William Hays were for the same offense. The indictments charged that the men did not pay to five of the teachers the money due and past due them. The grand jury was engaged during the work investigating charges that the Bell county board of education and Superintendent Wilson had not been conducting affairs according to law.

VIRGINIA

EXPECT RECORD TURN OUT

EMORY, Va., Nov. 13.—The greatest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in Southwest Virginia is expected to see the "football classic of the Mountains," when Emory and Henry wasps meet the Kentucky Wesleyan panthers at Big Stone Gap, Va., Saturday.

While the Wasps were winning from Lenior College Saturday, 10-6; Wesleyan was holding Louisville University to a scoreless tie, which would indicate that the Kentucky team is playing great football. According to the "old dope bucket" Wesleyan is picked to win handily over the Virginia team Saturday, but that proverbial container has been upset so many times during the present season that it can scarcely be relied upon. Regardless of dope and prophecy, the game should be a thriller from beginning to end.

RUNS SPECIAL TRAIN

EMORY, Va., Nov. 13.—A special train will be operated from Emory to Big Stone Gap Saturday when the Emory and Henry student body journeys into Wise county to see its team engage the warriors of Kentucky Wesleyan College. Besides the student body of 250 from Emory and Henry, a large number of people are expected to board the train at points along the route to make the trip to Big Stone Gap. The train leaves Emory at 7:45 a. m. eastern time, arrives at Big Stone Gap at 11:05, central time. On the return trip, it leaves Big Stone Gap at 8:30.

EXPECT CONVICTION OF NEGRO

BIG STONE GAP, Nov. 13.—Lee County Circuit Court is in session this week at Jonesville and the grand jury will probably return an indictment against William Spencer, negro convict, who is charged with murdering little Maxie Kinser, 14 year old daughter of Hirman Kinser, a farmer living near a highway camp about eight miles below Jonesville. While all the evidence gathered so far is purely circumstantial it points strongly towards the negro as being guilty.

The Clinch river bridge was ordered to be looked after to save it from becoming a complete wreck.

Joss Haynes was elected chairman.

WORLD PEACE IS THEME OF TALK

President of Kentucky League of Women Voters Stresses Need of Olive Branch.

(The Associated Press)

JACKSON, Ky., Nov. 13.—World peace was urged today by Mrs. E. L. Hutchinson, president of the Kentucky League of Women Voters. Delegates from Kentucky, West Virginia, and Ohio were gathered for a tri-state conference. Armistice Day was observed by the women meeting with students and faculty of Berea College in a short morning program.

"If the women of the world clasped hands, the League of Nations would not dare do anything but make an end of war," she said. "Peace is one of our aims. Peace we must have by a definite program. War must be abolished by logical, sensible, decent procedure. A substitute must be offered for war.

"Every nation must pledge itself to submit all questions to arbitration."

Women over the state have taken a prominent part in observance of Armistice Day, Mrs. Hutchinson said. She referred to the ladies' auxiliaries of the American Legion active in many cities, the planting of memory trees by the War Mothers, and other activities, such as banquets and post-warnings.

The third annual convention of the Kentucky League of Women Voters will be held in Louisville, Nov. 24 and 25, she announced, with Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt as the chief speaker the first night.

"The needs of the state for its immediate future have been brought so prominently to our attention that the thoughtful and conscientious citizens must take heed," Mrs. Hutchinson said. "It is not too early for the women of the state to get together on a program to which they can devote their best endeavors.

Such popularity must be deserved

TO convert critics into enthusiasts, whether for a new school of music or for a cigarette, requires something more than luck. There's sound reason for every big swing in popular taste.

So, to account for Chesterfield's swift rise, look to the cigarette itself, its tobaccos, its blending—in short, its taste. This one thing alone—its decidedly better taste—explains why thousands of smokers are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

Miss Bertha Hoe Becomes Bride of Mr. Hobart Reams

"I saw thee on thy bridal day
When a burning blush came o'er thee
When happiness around thee lay
The world all love before thee"
—Poe

The wedding ceremony of Miss Bertha Mae Hoe and Mr. William Hobart Reams which took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Homer Hoe, was one of the pleasant events of the fall social season. The ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate families and the close friends of the young couple, Reverend Dr. J. E. Savage officiated.

The spacious living room was attractively decorated in green and white. An altar was erected and banked with white chrysanthemums and ferns. A carpet of white was spread for the bride between the connecting doors around the altar. Standards of tall white chrysanthemums and festoons of southern smilax formed a chancel rail. The lights were shaded with white wedding bells and dainty asparagus fern.

Preceding the ceremony Professor Surman played, "Souvenir" and "Largo" on the violin. He was accompanied by Mrs. T. Russ Hill at the piano. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the wedding couple entered. The minister led the procession, he was followed by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Will Hoe, brother of the bride entered from the dining room and the bride and her bridesmaid, Miss Juanita Wester advanced from the library and met at the altar.

Miss Hoe, one of Middlesboro's most beautiful and talented daughters never appeared more lovely. She was gowned in bride's chiffon over white satin. The trimming was of pearls and point lace. Her tulle veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies, Pruett roses and maiden hair ferns tied with silver streamers.

During the ceremony Professor Surman and Mrs. Hill played tender music which created a happy and peaceful atmosphere. After the nuptial vows were spoken and while the newly married couple were receiving the best wishes and congratulations of the assembled guests, the musicians again delighted their audience with Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Mrs. Hoe, mother of the bride was attired in black satin and lace. Mrs. Reams, the groom's mother was handsome in black flat crepe. She wore a becoming picture hat. Mrs. Hoe graciously received the guests. She was attired in brick satin trimmed with cream lace.

Miss Edith Whitcomb of Harlan, wore a dress of rose crepe de chene. Miss Julia Pool wore white beaded georgette, Miss Helen Burnett was clad in blue georagette. Charline Gagle was becomingly dressed in a rose and pink material. These young ladies assisted in serving.

All of the wedding guests accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Reams to the train. They left for Louisville and other southern points for their honeymoon.

Mrs. Reams is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. Hoe and has lived in Middlesboro since coming from Pennsylvania fifteen years ago. She received a musical education at the college of Music in Cincinnati. She is a member of the Sigma Alpha Iota sorority. Her dainty beauty, talent and mannerisms have made her a general favorite and all her friends are pleased to know that she is going to reside in our city.

Mr. Reams is a graduate of Western University of Oregon. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is at present the vice president ad manager of the City Lumber and Supply company.

The young couple have endeared themselves to the hearts of their many friends here in Middlesboro. All join in wishing them a prosperous and very happy future. Mr. Reams is one of our most respected and admired citizen and we are happy to know that he intends to remain among us.

The out-of-town guests were, Miss Edith Whitcomb of Harlan, and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Reams, of Corbin.

A Long Distance Record

"VANITY BOX" AT MANRING TONIGHT

A clean, wholesome, undeniably and wholly enjoyable musical attraction is at the Manring theatre tonight when George E. Wintz presents the brilliant musical comedy "Vanity Box." This lively and optimistic little chirpy is the purpose of the story and the story serves to introduce an extraordinary array of musical comedy talent, and a galaxy of extremely beautiful and delightfully youthful girls, who thru vocal ability could sing in Opera and do at all times dance like perfect demons.

These entertainers flash in and out of view, in a series of riotously humorous scenes, with a continual and bewildering change of ravishing costumes.

In witnessing the process of "Vanity Box," it is said that little Hal Kiter, has every audience on the verge of exhaustive laughter, a laughter of the kind that makes the eyes stream and the ribs ache.

Mitzi Sassi—the Ritzi Mitzi Girl—diminutive French comedienne who appears in conjunction with Mr. Kiter, is certainly a bunch of delicious femininity and entrances one with her voice and mannerisms.

The enticing musical numbers include every phase of lilting harmony from the jazziest to the classical, and of the kind you'll whistle and hum as you leave the theatre, and retain in your memory.

A prominent feature that will be welcomed by all, will be the exclusive appearance at every performance of the world's famous jazz orchestra "The Pennsylvania Twelve" whose entertaining harmony, and choice as well as popular selections over Radio broadcasting, has endeared them to Radio fans of the country, who will be glad to welcome them in person.

In all there will be forty characters. The play is entitled, "The Union Depot," and is a farce of the most side-splitting character.

Rehearsals of the play will begin next Tuesday evening at 7:00. There will be two rehearsals each week until further notice. The place of rehearsing will be at the Carnegie Library. The play is to be given at some date during the first week in December.
